Laughing also gives us long term effects as well, it improves our immune system, relieves pain, increase personal satisfaction and improves our mood. Laughter is really a great medicine, and most of the time it is free. You may just have a funny conversation with your family or friends, watch a funny movie or sitcom, or just read funny books.

"Mommy" the little girl asks, "how old are you?"

"Honey, you are not supposed to ask a lady her age," the mother replied.

'It is not polite."

"OK", the little girl says,

'How much do you weigh?"

"Now really," the mother says, 'those are personal questions and are really none of your business."

Undaunted, the little girl asks, "Why did you and Daddy get a divorce?"

"That's enough questions, young lady! Honestly!"

The exasperated mother walks away as the two friends begin to play.

"My Mom won't tell me anything about her," the little girl says to her friend.

"Well," says the friend, "all you need to do is look at her driver's license. It's like a report card, it has everything on it."

Later that night the little girl says to her mother, "I know how old you are. You are 32." The mother is surprised and asks, "How did you find that out?"

"I also know that you weigh 130 pounds."

The mother is past surprised and shocked now. "How in Heaven's name did you find that out?"

"And" the little girl says triumphantly, "I know why you and daddy got a divorce."

'Oh really?' the mother asks. 'Why?'

"Because you got an F in sex."

The Teacher had enough. She took the Boy to the principal's office. While the boy waited in the outer office, the teacher explained to the principal what the situation was. The principal told the teacher he would give the boy a test and if he failed to answer any of his questions he was to go back to the first-grade and behave. She agreed.

The Boy was brought in and the conditions were explained to him and he agreed to take the test.

Principal: "What is  $3 \times 3$ ?"

Boy: "9".

Principal: "What is  $6 \times 6$ ?"

Boy: "36".

And so it went with every question the principal thought a third-grade should know. The principal looks at the teacher and tells her, "I think the Boy can go to the third-grade." The teacher says to the principal, "I have some of my own questions.

Can I ask him?" The principal and the Boy both agree.

The teacher asks, "What does a cow have four of that I have only two of?"

Boy: "Pockets."

Teacher: "What starts with a C and ends with a T, is hairy, oval, delicious and contains thin whitish liquid?"

Boy: Coconut

Teacher:   You stick your poles inside me. You tie me down to get me up. I get wet before you do.
